CREAM OF NEWS.

IF IT IS NEW AND TRUE THIS COLUMN HAS IT.

The O. A. R. Meeting Over—Roy Killed at Lexington—Thunder Storm Tuesday—Fine Pullman Exhibit—Many New Items.

Still More Muddled.

The city executive committee met in adjourned session Thursday night, but did nothing to straighten out the muddle in the second ward, except to recommend the withdrawal of both candidates. Mr. M. C. Forbes, who was nominated on the face of the returns, is still a candidate in spite of the action of the auxiliary or campaign committee, which threw out enough ballots supposed to have been cast for Forbes to reverse the result and declared Mr. J. D. Ware the winner. Mr. Forbes' friends claim the nomination for him and Mr. Ware's supporters insist that the auxiliary committee had the right to purge the returns and give the nomination to Mr. Ware. Mr. Forbes refused to take depositions and denied the right of the auxiliary committee to sit as a returning board. A great deal of bad feeling has been engendered on both sides and as the Democratic majority is only about 25, the indications are that a Republican will be elected.

The following resolution has been adopted by the committee: Resolved, that whereas under the call we are of the opinion and decide that M. C. Forbes should be declared the nominee of the Democratic party in the second ward, yet, for the sake of harmony we recommend that both J. D. Ware and M. C. Forbes withdraw in favor of a third party to be agreed on by them.

This leaves the matter in as bad a shape as ever. The auxiliary committee holds that Mr. Ware was nominated and the executive committee that Mr. Forbes "should be declared the nominee."

Unless some kind of a compromise is effected, neither of them can possibly be elected.

End of the Ensnarement.

Louisville, Sept. 12.—The Thirtieth National Encampment of the G. A. R. will be held in St. Paul in 1896, says Col. I. N. Walker, of Indianapolis, as Commander-in-Chief.

The Confederate Veterans, notably Gen. Gordon, Gen. Buckner and Mr. Watterson took part again in the receptions and camp fires, praising the good will that had brought peace in reality as well as in name.

Louisville, Sept. 13.—The following officers were elected by the G. A. R. to-day: Commander-in-Chief, Ivan R. V. Walker, of Indiana; Senior Vice-Commander-in-Chief, E. H. Hobson, of Kentucky; Junior Vice-Commander-in-Chief, S. G. Cosgrove, of Washington; Surgeon General, J. B. Whiting, of Wisconsin; Chaplain, T. C. Bliff, of Utah.

All officers have been elected and, while Commander-in-Chief Walker has not publicly announced it, Irvine Robbins will be named as Adjutant General.

The following is the first official order to be issued by Gen. Walker: Louisville, Ky., Sept. 13, 1895 General Order—No. 1.

Having been elected Commander-in-Chief of the Grand Army of the Republic at the Twenty-ninth National Encampment held at Louisville, I hereby assume command. Headquarters will be established at Indianapolis, Ind.

Base Ball Boys Muddled.

The local ball team has been disbanded and the boys will leave for their respective homes this week. A benefit was given them at Athletic park yesterday afternoon and a large crowd turned out at the entertainment. The proceeds were given to the members of the club. The program consisted of long ball throwing, high jumping, a sparring match, game of ball and other athletic exercises. The members of the Hopkinsville team were divided into two and the ball game was played, some of them being on both sides. The entertainment was highly enjoyed by all.

Cashed by a Freight Train.

Mack Moore, aged about 15 years, a son of Esquire Moore, of Morton's Gap, was so badly mangled by a freight train last Thursday afternoon that death resulted in a few minutes. Young Moore had been in the habit of jumping on and off moving trains while switching at that station. On this occasion he missed his footing and fell under a car, the wheels passing over both legs and one arm. He was seen to fall by some trainmen and when found was lying partly under the wheels, horribly crushed.

In a wreck on the C. & O. Engineer Belty and Fireman Madden and Crutchfield, the latter of Louisville, were fatally hurt Friday morning. The wrecked train was a heavily loaded freight and the catastrophe was caused by spreading rails.

FIVE ROUNDS.

I. All Featherweight: Bradley Can't Stand of Heavyweight: Harlan. [Winchester Democrat.]

The great political pugilistic contest was abruptly finished at Eminence by W. O. Bradley throwing up the sponge and leaving P. Wat Harlan undisputed master of the field. The following is an account by rounds:

Round 1.—Both contestants sprang into the ring at the call of time, Harlan wearing his same old emblem, the rooster—while Bradley sported his new and untried one, the log cabin and coon skin. Each man came up smiling and looked confident. Harlan led off with his "new silver stroke," a return to land, while Bradley was a failure, countered and delivered a full "gold-rib-roaster," which fell with telling effect upon Harlan's unprotected side. Each man then fought shy, looking for an opening until the gong sounded. Bradley's stock goes way up after this round and betting all in his favor.

Round 2.—Both men came up smiling, Harlan looking better than in the beginning. Bradley leads for Harlan's "record," but fails to land and is in return treated to one of Harlan's old time "honest knock down arguments." Bradley leads again but fails to land, while Harlan plants a well-directed blow on Bradley's "wind bag and bluster." Gong Harlan's stock goes up and the betting about even.

Round 3.—Harlan comes up first with one of his old time smiles while Bradley seems a little groggy. Harlan assumes the offensive with Bradley running and falling down to avoid punishment. Harlan presses the fight by landing on Bradley's "wind" several times. Bradley tries to "duck" and "dodge," and seems to be playing for time. Betting 3 to 2 in favor of Harlan.

Round 4.—As time is called Bradley steps forward, plainly showing the effects of the severe blows which Harlan had been dealing him, and leads with one of his old "misstatements" which Harlan gracefully parried and then in rapid succession lands blows of "truth and honesty" which so stagger Bradley that he did not the gong sounded when it did, it would be the end of Bradley. Everything is Harlan and the betting 2 to 1 that Bradley will not last eight rounds.

Round 5.—Harlan shows up smiling without a scratch while Bradley is so weak and groggy from the effect of his severe punishment of the last two rounds, that he is scarcely able to stand. Harlan proceeds with his annihilator and pounds Bradley with "honest statements, truth and facts" all around the ring. Bradley makes weak attempts to defend himself, but to no purpose. Bradley is evidently licked and seems to know it. Betting 50 to 1 on Harlan, but none taken.

Round 6.—Bradley comes to the scratch a badly bruised and severely punished man, while Harlan seems fresher than at any stage of the game. Bradley attempts to make a lead but catches sight of the cut on Harlan's eye and drops out of the fight forever. Godfrey Hunter throws up the sponge.

A Heavy Docket.

The fall term circuit court begins in this city next Monday for a six weeks' session. Last Friday was the last day for the filing of suits and 109 new suits have been docketed—55 common law and 54 equity. There are also on the docket 169 commonwealth cases, continued from the last term, 277 equity cases and 31 common law cases. This makes a grand total of 586 causes to come up for a hearing at this term.

Handsome Block To Go Up.

As mentioned last week, Ragsdale, Cooper & Co. will build up the front of their warehouse square, vacant 100 feet back, with a fine block of three story business houses. The three northern rooms will be stores and the southern half of the block will be devoted to business offices. The corner room on Tenth street will be occupied by the Ragsdale, Cooper & Co. The entire block will be one of the handsomest in the city.

NEXT WEEK THE TIME.

THE EDITORS ARE COMING TWO HUNDRED STRONG.

Landlord Hodges Will Spread Himself at the Banquet. The Committee Closing up Unfinished Matters this Week.

The press convention is now the talk of the town. It will be the big event of the year and everybody is looking forward to it with pleasurable expectancy. Nearly all of the 200 seats reserved for local subscribers have been taken at the banquet and the indications are that almost as many press people will be on hand.

A meeting was held last night to appoint such additional committees as were needed. The badges ordered for the editors are the handsomest ever used by the association. They are on blue ribbon and to each badge is suspended a circular pastel representation of "The Old Kentucky Home," handsomely mounted.

Handsome Sam Compton, of Madisonville is down with typhoid fever and cannot be on hand.

Among those who were here in 1878 who are again expected are Col. J. Stoddard Johnson, an honorary member, and Emmet G. Logan, J. W. Hopper and W. P. Walton. The veterans will not be numerous, but they will find enough of the old fellows to make the reunion a very pleasant affair.

Pembroke Gleanings.

PEMBROKE, Sept. 13.—The death of young Bettiker, the photographer from Southern Ohio, which occurred on the night of the 18th inst. has cast a gloom over the entire community. The young man came here with Mrs. Lillian Richards, who on the death of her husband at Youngstown, O., last May, returned to her former home at this place. Young Bettiker it seems had been associated with Mrs. Richards in the photograph business and came to her to be her assistant.

His aged father in Ohio was informed of his condition and was too feeble in health to come to his bedside. His affianced bride, a young lady of great spiritfulness however, came several days before his death and was nursing in her ministrations the last. His body was interred temporarily in the cemetery here, the weather being too warm to successfully transport it to his home in Ohio at this time.

The farming community are busy cutting tobacco. The crop is unusually large and as a general thing is in development of fine class condition. The yield is immense and it will tax the barn accommodations to the utmost to house it.

Jernigan & Co. have distanced competition in the sale of the Wood machines during the past season. This firm is constantly enlarging its business.

Mitchell & Moore are doing a thriving business in their new lively stable, blacksmith and wood work enterprise.

Dr. Lackey and son have bought Dr. Morrison's residence and will after New Year be associated in the practice of medicine here. Dr. Morrison will move to the city where he will hereafter practice his profession.

Mr. E. A. Hall and wife left last Thursday for Texas, where they will spend some time visiting relatives. The dash was winding and the crash of thunder terrific. The telephone bells in many offices were rung by the same disturbance.

Miss Laura A. Phillips left last Friday for Conway, Ark., where she is practicing her art as directress of music in the Central Baptist Female College at that place.

Miss Alma Payne is succeeding well with her select school for girls in the city.

Miss Nellie Graves has entered school at Boscebel college, Nashville, L.

Lightning strikes a Tree.

During the thunder storm yesterday afternoon lightning struck a tree in Dr. W. M. Hill's yard, about a square from this office. The current first struck the electric light wire near Forbes & Bro's. and followed the wire to a tree at Dr. Hill's gate, down which it was conducted to the ground. The dash was winding and the crash of thunder terrific. The telephone bells in many offices were rung by the same disturbance.

The contribution was the group of six magnificent Pullman cars, shown at the World's Fair in Chicago, probably the most gorgeous coaches ever built for railroad purposes. The exhibit includes the composite car, sleeping car, dining car, La Robbia, sleeping car, America, compartment car, observation car, Isabella and parlor car Santa Maria.

The Remarkable Career of James Wylie, of Scotland.

Known All Over the World as the "Herd Laddie"—His Success in Europe, America and Australia Astonished All Players.

The most famous checker-player in the world is James Wylie, a Scotchman, now in his seventy-first year, who has been playing for "a shullen a game, ye ken," nearly sixty years, and is still able to beat almost everybody. He was famous as a player in Scotland when he was only a boy, and was first called the "Herd Laddie." His peculiar title has caused thousands of people to believe that Wylie was once a shepherd.

Wylie was born in the Pierce Hill barracks, near Edinburgh, in March, 1820, his father being at the time a sergeant major in the Scots Greys. The earliest recollections of the old man are those of life at the barracks. He was apprenticed to a weaver in Kilmarnock, Ayrshire, when a mere boy, but his remarkable ability in draughts was recognized in time to prevent him from learning the weaver's trade. When he was fifteen years old he had beaten everybody who could be induced to play the game with him in Kilmarnock. Mr. Porteus, a well-to-do drover, took the boy with him to Edinburgh, where many matches at draughts were being played. The game then was popular in Scotland, as it still is. Mr. Porteus began a match with Mr. Bertram, a player of local reputation. After two or three games had been played, Mr. Porteus said he had business to attend to.

"Let my herd laddie play for me," he said. Mr. Bertram consented, and began to play with young Wylie. The next day the fame of the "Herd Laddie" was spread in the city, as he had won fifty-nine games from Mr. Bertram, who had been able to get only one draw. It was not long before all Scotland had heard of Wylie, and the title of "Herd Laddie" was so fastened upon him as to cling to life. His fame was increased by a number of matches with

JAMES WYLIE.

Prof. Andrew Anderson, Robert Marjoribanks and other celebrated players, who first defeated him and then were beaten by him.

For many years Wylie went about the country peddling a waver as a regular business and playing checkers for money against all comers. For more than twenty years he has been traveling about the world, charging a "challenger" for every game played with him, and occasionally contesting matches for stakes, which he usually has won. He came to this country in 1871, and played over 11,000 games of checkers, of which he lost less than 50. In 1881 he again visited America, and won 17,054 out of 19,517 games, losing 1,783 and losing only 106. As he charged Americans 25 cents a game for the privilege of playing with him, he must have acquired a small fortune. In this country he played matches with C. F. Barker, of Boston, C. A. Freeman, of Providence, and the late R. D. Yates, of Brooklyn, winning from Barker and losing to the others. As Wylie has had highly successful tours in England and in Australia, it is believed that he has acquired a small fortune.

Wylie claimed the title of "champion draughts player of the world" until last year, when he was beaten by James Ferris, a much younger Scotch player, in a match of ninety games, of which Ferris won thirteen and Wylie six, the remaining games being drawn. In the match, the old man said he was sparring: "I doot I'm too old for draughts," but since then he has played thousands of games, and has made remarkable scores in many places in Scotland. He has often been called "close" and "canny," and he has seldom failed to win matches on which he has been staked much "allier." In late years his hearing has been extremely dull, but his eyes are still keen. He talks with a broad Scotch accent when he has anything to say, but like many other experts in the "silent game," he is inclined to be taciturn. He has been temperate and careful in his habits during his long life, although he has been roving from place to place almost continually.

Suicide of a Blacksnake.
A blacksnake near Limerick, Ireland, having been worsted in a fierce battle with another serpent of a slightly different species, trailed away in deep dejection. Finally, as it dragged itself along, closely watched by Patrick McLaughry, a resident neighbor, it drew the soul of the defeated snake. Grasping firmly with its mouth a small stone it climbed a tree and presently hung by its tail from a horizontal limb. Next it began whirling about the limb with frightful rapidity. Longer and longer its body stretched under the centrifugal stress, until, with a last convulsive effort, the snake's body broke in halves, the weighted head and neck flying to a considerable distance, while the tail remained clinging to the limb of the tree.

A Freak of Commerce.
The experiment has been lately tried of sending briquettes, or fuel cakes made from coal dust and waste, from Belgium to East India.

Many Are of the Opinion That a Horse

Do horses weep? It is a question discussed by the Admiralty and Horse Guards Gazette. It tells us that there was a remarkable case of a horse weeping during the Crimean war. On the advance to the heights of Alma, a battery of artillery became exposed to the fire of a formidable Russian battery, and in the course of a few minutes it was nearly destroyed, and horses killed and wounded, guns dismantled and caissons broken, a solitary horse, which had apparently escaped unhurt, was observed standing with fixed gaze upon an object close beside him; this turned out to be his late master, quite dead. The poor animal, when a trooper was dispatched to recover him, was found with copious tears flowing from his eyes, and it was only by main force that he could be dragged away from the spot, and his uneasy cries to get back to his master were heartrending. A report of the incident, which that cavalry horses have for music, a correspondent of the Gazette writes that when the Sixth dragons recently changed their quarters a mare belonging to one of the troopers was taken so ill as to be unable to proceed on the journey the following morning. Two days later another detachment of the same regiment, accompanied by the band, arrived. The sick mare was in a loose box, and making her way through the shop of a tradesman took her place in the troop before she was secured and brought back to the stable. But the excitement had proved too great, and the subsequent exhaustion proved fatal.

HONOR AS COLLATERAL

A Loan Scheme Which Proved a Flat Failure.

Loans without security are a bait which usurers often hold out to the unwary, says the London Daily Telegraph, but a certain Lacour thought it might be made still more tempting by advertising that people could pledge their honor for a substantial monetary honor. Lacour is inexhaustible, especially when it can be turned into hard cash, so the scheme bade fair to succeed. But on the face of it as a commercial speculation it was a poor investment. His philanthropy was the chief recommendation, and therefore its author, a chemist's assistant formerly, with two companions, felt emboldened to imitate Mme. Eugenie Buge, and sing in the streets to invite the charitable public to contribute to the New Students' Friendly society, as they called their philanthropic loan office. The trio selected the Normandy coast for their tour, and duly advertised their philanthropic motives in the local press. But unfortunately Mr. Lacour preached without practicing. He had himself contracted a number of little debts on the strength of his honor, and his creditors were not inclined to be trifled with the value of that security, and when recently he borrowed from a friend a bicycle, which he at once handed over to a safe keeper who was dunning him for money, the bicyclist took an unkind view of the transaction, and lodged a complaint with the police, where the result was that the latter day philanthropist was placed in safe custody to meditate upon the worthlessness of honor in worldly transactions.

MODIFICATIONS OF SHEEP.

An Animal That Would Not Survive in a Modern World.

The sheep has undergone more modifications at the hands of man than any other animal. All the rest of our domestic animals have proved their capacity to reassume the habits of their wild ancestors, but no one named sheep has taken to a life of independence. This writes Dr. Louis Robinson in North American Review, is at first surprising, because many kinds, such as the Scotch mountain sheep, and those upon the high lands of Chili and Patagonia, manage to live and thrive with very little aid from their masters. Yet it is found that even the hardy pampas sheep cannot hold its own when that aid is wanting. If man were to become extinct in South America, the sheep would not survive half a dozen years. There are three chief reasons for this, and all of them are of peculiar interest.

In the first place, the sheep is, as a rule, a timid and defenseless animal, and at the same time is neither swift nor cunning. It falls an easy prey to the menaces of the wolf tribe. A single coyote or a fox terrier dog could destroy a thousand in a few days. Then it is found that the young lambs and their mothers require special care and nursing. If they do not get it at the critical time, the flock owner will lose them by the hundred. It is a common thing in the Southlands for the shepherd not to leave his flock day or night during the whole lambing season. Lastly, scarcely any modern sheep shed their wool naturally, in the same way that the horse sheds its thick winter coat.

Manuscript Discovered.

This remarkable item comes from Kennebunkport, Me. The Massey dissection was celebrated there recently, and was a notable affair. Mr. Massey is nearly one hundred and ten years old, and his wife is nearly as old. The wedding march consisted of a procession of centenarians, there being a number of Kennebunkport people who were over one hundred years old. The children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren joined in the march. The ceremony was followed by an old-fashioned dance upon the green.

Not as English as He Was.

He regarded himself as very English, and he certainly was very young. He fancied that he cut a very imposing figure as he sauntered past the theater just as the matinee girls emerged on the street. But a large, coarse man who was going by spoiled it all by remarking in a loud voice: "Hello, Willie! What are you going to do with that pipe? Going to blow your bubbles?" And now there is one young man who will never again smoke a pipe on the street.

A Woman Said to Be Six Score Years and Four of Age.

Mrs. Lucy Alexander, a Versatiles Colored Lady, Says Many Things That Impress One as Coming Out of the Nineteenth Past.

In Soap Creek Hollow, Keokuk, Ia., lives Mrs. Lucy Alexander, 124 years of age, and according to the census returns, the oldest person in Iowa. On Concert street, in the same city, resides Mrs. Mahala Robbins, who, tradition says, is over 100. Both the old women are colored.

"Get married?" said Mrs. Robbins, the other day, when asked her views on matrimony. "Course I wouldn't. Got 'nuff to eat up de pension an' s'photin' no man. I gits a pension of twelve dollahs a month, 'count my son who was killed 'long de wah, an' I lives on dat. Man 'ud eat up de pension an' I'd hev to wuk. No, sah, I've all right as I is."

Mrs. Alexander, of Soap Creek Hollow, entertains similar views, and the old women are to all appearances amply able to get along alone in the world, and are good for many more years of life.

Mrs. Alexander makes her home with Mrs. Lizzie Thomas, and here she sits in the sunshine and tells stories of a past life. Notwithstanding her advanced age she is quite well preserved and has full possession of all her faculties. She can thread a needle without glasses—never uses glasses, indeed, for any purpose. Her hearing is good, mind bright and active and health unimpaired. Within the past year she walked across the river to Oakville, a distance of nearly five miles. At times her memory is better than others, and she then speaks freely of old-time events, recounting the names of prominent generals of the revolutionary war and the early presidents.

Away back before the revolution Mrs. Alexander was born, a slave, in

MRS. LUCY ALEXANDER.
[Who is said to be 124 years old.]

Winchester, Va. Her maiden name was Page, and her master's name Miller Alexander. Her master served in the revolution, and when he returned home at its close she met him at the gate and carried his knapsack and accoutrements into the house.

Her earliest recollection goes back to the home of her master in Prince Edward county, Va. While living there Gen. Washington stopped at her master's house, but whether it was during or after the revolutionary war she cannot remember. Later the family removed to Richmond. That was then quite a small place. In 1828 her master removed to Kentucky, taking his slaves with him. After some years he died there, and the interest of the other heirs in the estate was purchased by Miller Alexander, Jr., who brought the slaves—ten in number—to Hamilton, Ill., and set them all free. This was about five years before the commencement of the civil war. Miller Alexander remained in Hamilton till the close of the war and then removed to St. Louis, where he now resides. He was a model master, as was his father also. None of her family were ever sold from the plantation, and all were kindly treated.

Mrs. Alexander's husband, Robert, died in Hamilton, Ia., in 1885, at the age of 104 years. The couple had lived in Iowa 10 years at that time. Many years ago Mrs. Alexander saved $100 and bought her husband from slavery. Mrs. Robbins, of Concert street, says she lived with a few years ago in Keokuk at the age of 150 years. She loves to talk about the old plantation days, and the time when the negroes found themselves free.

"Day was ignorant as a cat," she said. "Day jist went wild with joy. Day danced an' day sung, an' day had a joyful time. O! mahster, he feel awful bad. He couldn't eat an' he couldn't sleep, an' he jist up an' he died. 'Nen some uv de niggers day got shot, case de white people day not lak sich carryins on. We all 'traid at night. Many de time,' she added, "I waked in de house in de mornin' an' in de fief all day for 35 or 50 cents, an' sleep out doahs all night, 'case I feared to sleep in de cabin. Feared I got shot and killed. Some de niggers day didn't have nothin' to eat, and de gibber he not up a shop and guv 'em pervisions. Dem what had money, day slip to de store by night time and buy what day need."

Sixteen Tons on One Wagon.

The largest freight wagons in the world are now, it is asserted, made in San Leandro, Cal., for steam freight in connection with the Great Northern, the capacity of these wagons being sixteen tons each, and with sufficient wheel surface to sustain that amount without injury to the roads.

Pleasures of Imagination.

A recent advertisement of a grindstone worked by a treadle arrangement states that a boy or man can work it, and while so doing derive great pleasure from the affair by imagining that he is riding a bicycle. What a fine elastic stretch of imagination that boy or man would have to have.

SPEAKING APPOINTMENTS.

DR. CLARDY'S APPOINTMENTS.
The following appointments have been made by the Democratic Campaign Committee for Congressman
Jno. D. Clardy:

Henderson, Monday, September 17.
Owensboro, Tuesday, September 18.
Haverhill, Wednesday, September 19.
Calhoun, Thursday, September 20.
Newmarket, Monday, September 24.
Speaking to begin at 1:30 p. m.

Jim Richardson is out for speaker of the next house and is going to come pretty near knocking the plum. Tony Carroll has been caught between a goldbug constituency and a free silver caucus and can't turn either way without facing defeat. The chances are that he will try to hold his seat and renounce his ambition to be speaker again. Foreo, of Shelby, will be the goldbug candidate in Mc-Creary's interest, but even a blind man can now see that Blackburn will organize the house. If Richardson has been selected as the Blackburn candidate, his election is practically assured. If he is run as a "on his own hook" as a silver man, he will prove a strong factor in the race, but his ultimate success would depend on the action of the Blackburn cau-sus.

Now both the busy country editor
get out the suit he was married in some score of years ago and his helpmate polishes up the shiny places
with shoe polish and adorns the bottom with delfty laid patches. He likewise calls through his editorial column for delinquent subscribers to pay up all arrears. For the time draws him when he may lay aside his goose quill and set himself down to a good square meal at the Kentucky
Press Association meet at Hopkinsville—Owensboro Inquirer.

Mr. Jas. Breathitt, Republican candidate for circuit judge, completed his canvass of Trigg county
last week and returned home Saturday. He made several speeches in the county. Judge Linn, who is holding court in Trigg, did not meet Mr. Breathitt on the stump as was expected. The Republican nominee is much elated over his reception in Trigg and is inclined to be boastful.
He says he will carry Trigg or make the county a stand off. Jim has,
however, contracted the Republican habit of using his hat for a speaking tube.

Dr. J. D. Clardy made a short speech Saturday at the court house to a fair sized audience, filling the appointment made by the state committee. His speech was chiefly an appeal for party harmony and united support of the state ticket. He touched briefly upon state issues, but did not enter into a discussion of either state or national questions. He will make several other speeches in the county before the election.

Mr. Jas. W. Harris, formerly of the Owensboro Inquirer, but now "Kentucky Kernel" editor of the Louisville
Post, will be married Oct. 1st to Miss Elio Taylor, one of Owensboro's most charming girls. Why didn't Bro Harris put it a week earlier and make the wedding a feature of the coming press convention?

Bradley made two stops in his retreat last week, one at London and the other at Frankfort.

HARDIN'S APPOINTMENTS.

Elizabethtown, Friday, Sept. 20.
Hartford, Saturday, Sept. 21.
Central City, Monday, Sept. 23.
Calhoun, Tuesday, Sept. 24.
Owensboro, Wednesday, Sept. 25.
Bardonia, Thursday, Sept. 26.
Shelbyville, Friday, Sept. 27.
Shelbyville, Saturday, Sept. 28.
Lebanon, Monday, Sept. 30.
Campbellsville, Tuesday, Oct. 1.
Greensburg, Wednesday, Oct. 2.
Columbia, Thursday, Oct. 3.
Purkville, Friday, Oct. 4.
Liberty, Monday, Oct. 7.

Louisville has never had such a crowd as the G. A. R. meeting brought last week. The jam was awful and the capacity of the city was taxed to its utmost. Aside from the victims of the caisson explosion, there were no lives lost as a result of the gathering. A portion of one of the grand stands fell down and skinned
a number of legs and ankles, but no serious injuries were sustained from the accident.

Dick Tyler, our "sound money"
candidate for lieutenant governor, has heard from his home county of Fulton. Luten, free silver candidate, received 414 votes to 289 for Speight,
anti-silver. Hickman gave Speight a majority sufficient to nominate him in the two counties, but Hardin's running mate was very emphatically rebuked by his own people for his recent gold bug utterances.

The gold grabbers made away with $150,000 of our rapidly diminishing reserve Saturday in one lump and shipped it to England. Already another bond issue is being discussed
and is inevitable unless Carlisle should change his absurd policy and pay the demands on the treasury in any lawful money he has on hand,
when the borrowed gold is gone.

Those miserable scandal mongers,
so called newspaper men, that have been accusing a crowd of "drunken Frankfort hoodlums," of preventing Bradley's speech at Eminence, do not attempt to explain why Bradley comes to Frankfort to make the first speech
of his new series.—Frankfort Capital.

The political situation has undergone a decided change within the last two weeks and the tide is still set towards Hardin. Bradley's inability to meet Hardin in joint debate has greatly disgusted and discouraged
his followers and Hardin's majority is now expected to be at least 20,000.

Sam Jones is amusing himself during the dog days by writing gold bug letters to such papers as will publish them. Sam should remember that the jack at all trades is good at none. Stick to your Bible, Sam.
Running the government is not your fort.

Po's Brooks, the Blackburn candidate in McCracken county, was nominated for the legislature Saturday.
C. B. Moore, of Simpson, for senator, and W. S. Wilson, of Logan, and C. C.
Norman, of Hancock, for the house;
were also added to the long list of nominations who will help Joe.

It is a pity the committee did not put Hardin on Bradley's track and let him chase the Republican wind-bag from town to town and keep him on the run.

Dr. Clardy went to Dixon yesterday to fill his appointment for Webster county.

Queen Lil has been pardoned by the Hawaiian government.

The meeting of the Kentucky
Press Association will be held at Hopkinsville this month and great preparations are being made. Hopkinsville is one of the cities of the K. K. K. is full of people and when her late string is pulled those who enter her gates are hospitably treated.
This will be a great meeting of the press boys.—Bowling Green Demo-

Erysipelas

Has been my affliction from childhood.
It was caused by impure blood and every spring I was sure to have a long spell
and my general
health would give
way. Doctor did me but little good
and I became dependent. Last
spring erysipelas
settled in my eye
and I became totally blind for several weeks. Hood's Sarsaparilla was recommended and after taking one bottle my sight gradually returned,
my blood became purified and I was restored to good health. With Hood's Sar-

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube.
When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.
We will give $100 for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Obituary.

As the grand monarch of light ascended the stairway of beginning day and was spending his fury, as in tenderness he lay his golden beams,
in soft folds upon the hills which were green for away that horrid angel came and poised himself over the happy home of Mr. J. Nick Thomas and rudely watched that bright bud of promise from the shores of time and prematurely burst her into vast eternity. As a wife she was an angel of love and goodness, and made Heaven, of the home she graced.
Beauty and amiability were some of her many possessions. As a mother
she was loving and brave, and combated with her destroyer that she might survive to rear her little one, the at risk of her own bosom. As a friend she was true, and many were the little acts of kindness and love
she bestowed upon her host of admirers.

I knew her in her girlhood and knew her only to love her, and saw her when at the shrine of love she knew, and alas! when fever preyed upon the delicate form and left it ravished there, when tempest tossed and racked by pain 'twas there again
we met.

When death had had its sway she lay in her spotless robe of purity as if in sleep and the lovely countenance
only showed how quietly she met the inevitable foe. Her married life was as the life of the flower and she died
that new life might spring eternal.
Now, let us weep not for our Darling
Lillian, but may we hope that gay
birds of bright plumage will sing
glad songs above her, may the clouds
press lightly upon her delicate form,
may the stars of Heaven shine so renewly down, and the dews of Heaven
fall gently upon that spot to us so sacred, until that glad sweet morn-
when the voice of God shall break
the bolts of the tomb and wake the sleeping dead to life and immortality.

puzzling one, no one being prepared for the disclosure of... as the
'Grim Joker.' 'His Early Life,'

the way to see his 'best girl,' as no

good. 'His Ascent to Authority' was a most humorous description of the practical jokes played by... The prank played by... was given in very fine style. 'His Decline and Tragic End' was most eloquently described by Mr. Herbener.

Do what such men as Henry Clews, Jno. Jacob Astor, Governor Flower, of New York, Senator Jones of Nevada and other on Seventh street, at auction in lots at any price the public will pay, and at the same time I am going to offer for sale twenty-five lots of Mr. Bankhead Dade's and 10 of Mrs. Lander's that adjoin the Thompson property.

A forty foot avenue has been opened through these properties extending from Seventh to Ninth street.

You know that real estate is the best investment in the world for you, but you need a little "jollifying" up to get you to separate yourself from your money in exchange for good paying real estate.

Why put money in U. S. bonds, bearing only 4 per cent? Into bank stock, bearing only 8 per cent? Into railroad bonds and stocks, all of which fluctuate in value, when you can buy real estate that never fluctuates, but is steadily appreciating in value every day, and must, in the very nature of things continue to do so.

Don't hesitate any longer about that money you have to invest, but attend the

of these valuable lots next Thursday and invest some of your surplus cash.

"Is Kentucky a Doubtful State?" asks the Courier Journal in a standing advertisement reprinted in every paper in the state. So far as the Courier-Journal can make it, so far as damning the ticket with faint praise or a silence that speaks louder than words, so far as a deliberate failure to do its duty on the part of the leading Democratic daily of the State goes, it is.—Glasgow Times.

Mrs. Mary Potter, widow of the late Lewis Potter, whose suit for a settlement of the estate has been pending, compromised the case. Mrs. Potter received $896 and the property given her by the marriage contract. It is understood that Mrs. Potter preferred the compromise to long and disagreeable litigation and was advised by her attorneys to accept it. Date of the Thompson Property.

On Thursday, day after to-morrow, at 4 o'clock R. M. Conway will sell at auction, in lots the old Thompson property on Seventh street. This is very valuable property and ought to sell well. It is the best land yet offered at auction and as every lot must be sold it will offer golden opportunities for investments. A forty foot avenue will be opened from Seventh to Ninth street through this and Mr. Bankhead Dade's land, which will greatly increase the value of these lots. The dwelling will also be sold at auction to the highest bidder.

He was sent home in a carriage and the physicians report him in no great danger, but owing to his age and comparatively feeble health the accident is rendered more serious. Mr. Ingram is a veteran newspaper man, one of the oldest and best known in that State.

News From the Gate City of the South.

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 11th, '95.

EDITOR KENTUCKIAN:

Could you see the rapid advancement in our beautiful city, am sure that you would call it "Chicago of the South." Over two hundred large buildings have been put up since the excitement of the International Exposition, so Atlanta will soon surpass any other city in the Union for beauty and enterprises. The Exposition Grounds are growing more interesting each day. The State Buildings will be something that every state will be proud of. The New York Building, almost completed, is very artistically built out of granite. In the Government Building we find the most beautiful Aquarium, rustic style, built in arch form, containing over one hundred species of fish. In the war department the statues of the most noted generals are found. In the Navy Department models of all the ships used in the Navy. In the Interior the most interesting feature is the advancement of the Indian Schools, one located at Carlisle, Pa. and others in Kansas.

In the Manufactures and Liberal Arts Building we find over 350 cases of foreign goods and three car-loads exhibits from California. The lake, "Clara Meer," now presents a most beautiful sight, containing an Electric Fountain that smiles on all passers with a most striking light. With this and the many Gondolas that are to play in the lake, we know that the scene will be attractive. Another attraction is the lovely rock-garden on the Forestry Building, where we find many curiosities. Now, my friends, trust that this will interest you and many will come to the Exposition.

FRENCH LOSSES IN WAR. Six Million Men Perished in the Battles of the Last Century.

Dr. Lageneau of the French Academy of Medicine, has been making an estimate of the deaths by the wars of France for the last century, says the New York Sun. He finds that the civil wars of the end of the eighteenth century, the republic up and including the year 1800 cost the lives of more than 2,100,000 Frenchmen. From the year 1801 to Waterloo, when France was fighting Europe in arms, more than 3,150,000 Frenchmen were engaged, and nearly 2,000,000 perished. Under the restoration, Louis Philippe and the second republic, when there were campaigns in Spain, Greece and Algeria, the army included less than 215,000 men, and the loss in battle was only 22 a thousand. Even in the brilliant African campaigns of the mean annual loss was less than 150 men.

Next came an era of frequent and bloody wars, the war in the Crimea, the war in Italy, the war in China, the war in Mexico, and finally the war with Prussia. Out of rather less than 310,000 French soldiers sent to the Crimea, 95,615 perished. Of the 500,000 that took part in the Italian war nearly 190,000 perished. Nearly 1,000 perished in the expedition to China. The medical statistics of the French in the war of 1870 have not been published, nor have those of the Mexican undertaking. The effective strength of the French in 1870-1 was 1,400,000 men. The number lost is not positively known, but it is believed that the cost of the second empire cost of 600,000 lives. Dr. Lageneau estimates that the small wars of the third republic have been fought at comparatively small cost of human life. He estimates the total loss for the century to have been 6,000,000 men, mostly young.

HE DESERVED IT. Reason for an Increase in a Lad's Wages.

Several years ago when W. F. White, the present traffic manager of the Santa Fe, was general passenger agent of the same road with headquarters at Topeka, Kan., he had in his employ an office boy the name of W. J. Young. He was an orphan lad about fourteen years old, and with another brother, kept house in a little room on the outskirts of the town.

He was very industrious, and often when his other clerks had gone home at night, he would sleep on his desk in the office and would be found busily at work by the first clerk who arrived early in the morning.

One day Mr. White found a carefully written and sealed letter on his desk marked "personal." Opening it he read the following brief communication: "Mr. White—At present my salary is only ten dollars per month and I can only live on two meals per day. You know this is not enough for my support. I would like to have my pay raised to fifteen dollars a month, so I can eat three meals a day. If you cannot give me these dollars a month I will work for ten dollars a month." W. J. Young.

"Well, I guess the boy will have to have three meals a day," laughing exclaimed Mr. White.

Young remained in the service of the company many years, being promoted from time to time until he occupied the position of city passenger agent of the road at St. Joseph, Mo.—Chicago Times-Herald.

ANY AIR WILL DO. Honor to the American From Foreign Bands.

Foreign bands sometimes get mixed up in playing the national airs of the United States. At Kiel, it appears that some band, being desirous of paying particular attention to the United States steamer, and the band played "Climbing Up the Golden Stairs." This was laughed at in the navy department, and one of the officers said it reminded him of a reception given the officers of the ship Hayti. The entire Haytian army turned out to meet and escort the Yankee officers to the palace. Old King Solomon was president of the black republic at that time. The army consisted of all kinds and conditions of uniform, and the array that went to have been the making of a minstrel olio. The band was gorgeous in its attire, the best part of all that was gaudy in the uniform of nations having been used to make the national band of Hayti a thing of beauty and a joy to the black republic.

As the staid officers ascended the steps of the palace, and the dignitaries fell back to make way for them, the band played the supposed national air. It was some minutes before the American officers were aware that it was intended as a compliment to them, and that they were expected to take off their hats and make their best bows. But they finally caught on, and marched to the front of the platform and doffed

A Physician's Story. "PHYSICIAN, HEAL THYSELF." THE ADAGE APPLIED.

Dr. Porter of Kentucky Tells How He Was Cured.

(From the 25th Century, No. 1, Gazette.)
 In the mountains of Eastern Kentucky lived Dr. C. H. Porter, who for 47 years has been curing the people of the mountains. He was at last cured, and his cure was so startling and miraculous that it was soon the talk of the mountains, and finally reached the Bluegrass. A reporter of the Gazette concluded to investigate in the interest of suffering humanity, and to his question the doctor replied: "I have been cured, and I am now curing my country and practicing my profession. I had a terrible nervous attack that completely prostrated me, and from that time until a few months ago I suffered untold agony, and in fact never knew a well day. I tried everything in the way of medicine that I knew and consulted other physicians for miles around, but I found no relief, and I resigned myself to the inevitable and awaited my fate. A few months ago my son saw an account in your paper of a new medicine called Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and wanted me to try it. I said that they would do no good, but after taking a few doses I felt better, and again grew revived in my breast. I continued taking the pills and continued to improve, and now I believe have finally recovered. That is about all of the story. I believe Pink Pills cured me, and I never fail to recommend them in my practice. It is in fact I tell you, that you will pass on your road home who has been almost completely cured of rheumatism after years of suffering. Mr. S. G. Bailey, is his name and you can stop and see him."

After thanking Dr. Porter the Gazette man started for Dr. Bailey's residence. He was found on his farm, some three miles away. In reply to our inquiry, Mr. Bailey said: "Yes, Dr. Porter told you the truth. I suffered from rheumatism and was only able to leave my room in good weather, and then I was cured. I am now cured, and I am glad of it, for you can see yourself what Pink Pills have done for me. Come to the house, and I will show you my cure, and I will show you my cure. I was cured by Dr. Porter's Pink Pills, for several weeks I positively refused.
